

"why do we know"

6-01-2009

why do we know things

without remember it,

until it happens

and everything comes back, that one moment in time changes everything in my mind, makes me aware again

without wanted to

but everytime it does,

and I can't do anything about it because it happens anyway.

It's not allowed to change what we know but sometimes I wish I could
